Sales, Inventory & Operations Planning (SIOP) is at the heart of every manufacturer, retailer and consumer goods company

SIOP is the integrating function that connects every part of the business to achieve the desired financial results

The Issue:

Regardless if organizations have procedures and work instructions in place, or do have prestigious quality certificates, the day-to-day functioning of and between departments ultimately determines each organization's competitiveness

Day-to-day operations are subject to frictions within and between departments which leads to Inefficiencies and Waste

Supply Chain Consultancy Solution:

By highlighting frictions and related Inefficiencies & Waste within and between departments an overview of improvement opportunities with tailor-made solutions are provided to customers

Supply Chain Consultancy Methodology:

Interviews with department heads, Fishbone Diagrams, and Root Cause Analysis discover operational issues, and visualizes improvement opportunities
